

You are invited to attend a morning seminar:

Acclimatize - Resilience for EU Bathing Waters and Coastal Communities

Please extend this invitation to your team and colleagues with responsibilities in bathing water management.

10am Thursday 12th October 2017

Location: Fitzgerald Chamber, UCD Student Centre, UCD, Belfield, Dublin 4
(beside the UCD Sports Centre)

This is a free event.

RSVP by Thursday 5th October 2017 to Audrey Murray at audrey.murray@ucd.ie

Campus map available from www.ucdestates.ie/information/ucd-maps.

The UCD Student Centre is building 72 on the map & is located beside the UCD Sports Centre. Best access is via the Clonskeagh entrance.

Schedule

10.00am Registration, tea and coffee

10.30am Welcome & introduction to University College Dublin

- Professor Andrew Deeks, UCD President

10.35am Seán Kyre T.D., Minister of State for Community Affairs, Natural Resources and Digital Development, Department of Communications, Climate Action & Environment.

SESSION 1 (Chair Professor Wim Meijer, UCD)

10.40am Dublin & Dublin Bay - Threats & Opportunities

- Mr. Gerry Galvin Chief Technical Officer, Irish Water

11.00am Climate Adaptation Planning in Ireland and the National Adaptation Framework

- Mr. John O'Neill, Principal Officer in the Climate Adaptation, Soil, GMOs & Chemicals Division of the Department of Communications, Climate Action & Environment

11.15am Water Management in Ireland and Climate

- Mr. Andy Fanning Water Management Programme, Office of Evidence and Assessment, Environmental Protection Agency

11 35am Tea & coffee

SESSION 2 (Chair: Dr. John O'Sullivan, UCD)

11.50am Dublin Bay Biosphere Partnership

- Mr. Shane Casey, Biosphere Co-Ordinator

12.10pm Acclimatize —Overview and the Irish Experience

- Professor Wim Meijer, Head of UCD School of Bimolecular and Biomedical Science, UCD